- Not insured under the national insurance schemes is the person residing in the Netherlands:

The CAK in the Netherlands regularly monitors whether you have a basic health insurance, based on information from the municipal personal records database.

The students of Sint Maarten are not included in the obligation to insure under the Dutch Long-Term Care Act (WLZ): if you have no income work/internship in the Netherlands, you are not in a registered partnership and you do not have a child. You may as yet receive a letter from the CAK, stating you are not insured. If you do, immediately perform the check of the Dutch Social Insurance Bank (SVB), otherwise you run the risk of a fine
